THE CLERK: Michael Lopez, 101, 8.

THE COURT: Michael Lopez, step up, please. State is answering ready?

MR. COOPER: Yes, Judge.

THE COURT: Your lawyer is Mr. Kiss?

THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

THE COURT: Have you talked to him this morning?

THE DEFENDANT: I talked to him yesterday. He said he was going to be here.

THE COURT: I'm going to pass the matter. Let him know the State is answering ready for trial. Find out how long it is going to take him to get here.

Defendant in court. Attorney not in court.

(The above-entitled cause was passed and later recalled.)

THE CLERK: Michael Lopez, 101, 8.

THE COURT: Good morning, counsel.

MR. KISS: For the record, Daniel Kiss on behalf of Mr. Lopez. I apologize for being late. I know this matter was marked for jury.

We would like to take a bench trial if one is available today?

THE COURT: I can certainly start that bench trial. Why don't I give -- I know the State is -- even though you see a lot of State's Attorneys, some of them are very brand new in this courtroom. They're kind of still seeking guidance from the chief State's Attorney here, Mr. Cooper.

So why don't I say 9:45, that should give everybody enough time to get ready for the trial and you'll be number one on the trial call.

MR. KISS: Thank you.

THE COURT: Okay.

(The above-entitled cause was passed and later recalled.)

THE COURT: 101, Line 8.

THE CLERK: Michael Lopez.

THE COURT: Are you ready for trial?

MR. COOPER: The State has had an opportunity to review the evidence in this case. We're missing a necessary witness, one of whom has never respondend to any subpoenas or phone notification of our office.

Based on that, the State can't proceed at this time.

THE COURT: Is that an officer?

MR. COOPER: We have one officer indicated and a civilian witness.

THE COURT: Officer in court, complaining witness is not in court. It is now 9:50.

MR. COOPER: Motion, State SOL.

THE COURT: The Defendant demands trial. Case dismissed.

MR. KISS: Thank you.

THE COURT: Thank you.

(Which were all the proceedings had in the above-entitled cause.)
